

In astronomy, an irregular moon is a natural satellite following a distant, inclined, and often eccentric and retrograde orbit. They are believed to have been captured by their parent planet.

Irregular moon

November 1–14, 2015, Via D'Azeglio 22, Ravenna

An exhibition project by Osservatorio Fotografico in cooperation with Academy of Fine Arts Leipzig
Curated by Anna Voswinckel

1 Abel Minee

ASPHALT AND RUBBER, 2015
Videoloop, 4 min

2 Johannes Ernst

Excerpt from the book:
CONCRETE REMAINS, 2015
10 Photographs, framed Archival Pigment Prints
60 × 40cm

3 Dana Lorenz

Excerpt from:
SCHÖNE WAHRHEIT (beautiful truth) – from the trilogy „Fake it til you make it“, 2015
7 Photographs, framed C-Prints, diverse sizes

4 Paula Gehrman

SCHWEBENDER RING (1967, Berlin)
Excerpt from EMPIRE, 2015
Details of german architecture and memorial culture
7 Photographs, mounted Fine Art Prints, 90 × 60 cm

5 Larissa Rosa Lackner

DAS ZELT (the tent), 2015
Videoloop, 18 min
Excerpt from the videoinstallation DAS ZELT

6 Benno Sattler

TRÜB, DANN BERGE (Dull, then mountains), 2015
5 Photographs, framed Inkjet-Prints, 80 × 60 cm